NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Jim Driscoll holds favorite over Abe Attell as the hour approaches for the boys to enter the ring, at odds of 10 to 7.

While no decision will be rendered in the ten-round bout many wagers have been laid to be settled by newspaper decisions and experts who will be at the ringside and offer their opinion on the outcome.

Betting on a Knockout.
Should anything be a decisive win for either boy by the knockout route, the odds will be paid accordingly, and there have been numerous wagers laid that Driscoll would win before the limit.

The more conservative believe that the bout will go the full distance, as both are such clever defensive artists and Attell was also in luck even with Steno, who is Driscoll's strongest rival in the featherweight class.

Never were two little fighters better groomed to battle, and their condition was the fastest factor ever seen in the ring. Both are confident of getting a lead and making it conclusive that he is the superior fighter.

They are prepared to show the fastest action in the world and the exhibition is likely for first to last.

75 BREAKERS IN SHOE SPIKE

Seventy-five strike-breakers from Lynn arrived in South Braintree today to take the place of striking laborers at the C. D. Chatham factory. The regular South Braintree police force of four men has been increased by four officers from Quincy and from Weymouth, because trouble is feared between the strikers and strike-breakers.

BIG STORM COE IN-RIGHT

Storm winds are out along the entire New England coast. The storm, which is now central over Indiana and Ohio, and rapidly moving northeast, is reported to hit Boston tonight. A rainy night is expected.

Highly consistent winds are indicated for tonight, as well as for tomorrow. Indications are that there will be no less than a heavy rain on Saturday.

SEEKS TO FORECLOSE BIG BOND MORTGAGE

ATLANTA, Feb. 19.—The First Citizens Trust Company of Boston has filed a mortgage in equity in the United States Circuit Court in Atlanta for the foreclosure of a mortgage on the property of the Atlanta Trust Company, Birmingham & Atlantic Railroad, payable on January 1, 1910. The trust company alleges default of payment of interest.

"HIGH-TONED" GRAFTERS HIT BY LOMASNEY

Marion M. Lomasney, Representative from Ward 5, divides grafters on the city into two classes. In trying his "campaign" bill before the Legislative Committee on Metropolitan Affairs today he said in part:

"I have no desire to rebuke officials. The fault is with the system. There is absolute lack of uniformity among the several city departments.

"There are few classes who wish to ponder the city. The worst is the class of slick and clever men who come to the city as a matter of fact, for a few dollars under the law. These few are the grafters. They are the ones who are the most dangerous to the city. They are the ones who are the most dangerous to the city. They are the ones who are the most dangerous to the city.

ATTACKS LOAN SHARKS' TRUST

The four members of the loan shark trust in Boston are controlled by a monopoly and a money "shark" was the declaration today of Representative Charles A. Warren of Chelsea before the members of the legislative committee on Legal Affairs. Mr. Warren said:

"There has been all kinds of pulling and hauling on my part to make sure we have drawn my bill. I am with it to the hilt. Neither opponents or friends, and I have had them both, will make me quit.

QUALTROUGH SOBER, SAYS NAVAL MAN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—A copy of the report of the confidential staff found Captain Edward F. Qualtrough of the battleship Albatross guilty of intoxication given for the first time an adequate summary of the evidence given in the case. The report of which Captain Qualtrough was found guilty, and for which he was sentenced to suspension for six months, was communicated January 20, at a dinner given by United States Minister Chamberlain at Tagan.

The principal witness against the commander was Rear Admiral Richard Wright, commander of the second division of the fleet. The admiral testified that after the dinner he noticed the captain's swaying in the entrance of the reception room, smoking.

"As there were ladies there," he said, "I told him that this was the smoking smoking. He followed me to the smoking room and I saw him smoke and I saw him smoke."

Evidence of Drink.

Commander George W. Kline, executive officer of the Albatross, was also acting as a witness. He testified that he saw Captain Qualtrough when he came from dinner. In the opinion of the captain was under the influence of liquor.

Surgeon J. P. Cahill, of the Albatross, testified that he had seen Captain Qualtrough several times during the dinner. He testified that he saw the captain's swaying in the entrance of the reception room, smoking. He also testified that he saw the captain's swaying in the entrance of the reception room, smoking.

"I would not say a small amount of liquor had been taken," said the doctor. "I think it would be better to say that Captain Qualtrough was under the influence of liquor."

The jury in the Superior Civil Court at Boston, Judge James F. Sullivan presiding, found Captain Qualtrough guilty of intoxication. The jury also found that the captain was under the influence of liquor.

KELLERMANN'S VENUS SHOCKS SWELL SET

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—In an apartment of abatement that the most admired member of the Hedy Hedy Club had never appeared in the wildest contrivances of an unblinking dream, Miss Annette Kellermann, reported to possess the most beautiful figure in the world, appeared at the Hotel Astor in a combination of classical white and pink, and gave the guests a shock of her existence.

The audience represented the pomp and dignity of clubmen—present and past—and had given them, in the opinion of the clubmen, a shock of her existence.

When she entered, the guests were all looking at her. She was wearing a white dress with a pink belt and a pink sash. She was wearing a white dress with a pink belt and a pink sash.

HERE'S A DANCE INSPECTOR DRISCOLL WON'T STOP---BY TAD.

FITZPATRICK GIVES BURNS CREDIT FOR GAMENESS

The following letter from Sam Fitzpatrick indicates that Tommy Burns made a game fight against Johnson in the battle for the heavyweight championship.

Sydney, Australia, Jan. 14, 1906.
Dear Ted—Just three weeks ago, after the championship of the world changed hands, after one of the most one-sided fights I ever saw, Burns did not look to have a chance from the crack of the gong from the first round till the police took a hand in the fight, in the fourteenth round, Burns put up one of the greatest uphills battles I ever saw. He made desperate efforts to land on Johnson's body and jaw, but each time Burns would either land on Burns' feet and take all the sting out of his blow or stop it as though he were catching a baseball.

Between 12,000 and 15,000 people lined up on Burns' feet and take all the sting out of his blow or stop it as though he were catching a baseball. Between 12,000 and 15,000 people lined up on Burns' feet and take all the sting out of his blow or stop it as though he were catching a baseball.

about three times its natural size, while Johnson did not look as though he were catching a baseball.

Three days after the fight a wire from Sydney told me that Burns had been in the hospital for several days. Burns was in the hospital for several days. Burns was in the hospital for several days.

There is always some who are opposed to the fighting game. A champion is constantly belittled by would-be pugilists who have got the bug that they are world-beaters, or have found some friends who are worse than the fighter who tells him how big he is; that he ought to stick up with that Nelson, Stanley Ketchel or Jim Braddock. The danger from these lunkheads gets such an enlargement of the claims that he never recovers till some unknown corner alone and breaks him up in forty pieces. There he is heard of no more.

What prompted me to write on this subject a little was the minute I received the letter from Sydney.

50 BASEBALL TICKETS FOR FIRST 50 FANS TO ANSWER THIS QUERY

Baseball problems come and go, but here is one that will set all the fans agog.

What is the largest number of hits and the greatest number of bases a team can make in one turn at bat, or one-half inning, without a runner crossing the plate.

For the first fifty fans sending in the correct answers explaining the plays the Boston American will present tickets to the first championship game to be played in Boston this year, either National League or American League; the winner take their pick. Address Baseball Editor, Boston American.

I WANTED A GOOD SUGGESTION FOR A PICTURE TO DRAW IN THIS SPACE AND HERE'S A FEW I GOT:

1. HAVE BUNK SAYING "WHO WILL WIN"
2. HAVE KING EDWIN WITH HIS EAR TO THE GROUND SAYING "I OPE BEN WINS"
3. HAVE ATTELL PUNCHING DRISCOLL AND THE LATTER SAYING "WHY'S THRODING GLOVES AT ME"
4. SUGGESTED BY VAN FROM THE SAN MOUNT TOWN.
5. MAKE A PICTURE OF TOM SHARKEY SITTING AT THE RINGSIDE SAYING "I CHALLENGE THE WINNER"
6. MAKE DRISCOLL LOOKING LIKE A LION AND SMILING AT A MONKEY (ATTELL) SAYING "AM A RELISH"
7. MAKE DRISCOLL AT A TABLE EATING LIKE A HORSE SAYING "MY WORD I CAN'T MAKE THE WEIGHT"

NEIL WILL MEET ATTELL

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.—Frankie Neil and Alie Atell are to meet at New York in a four-round contest, March 15, for a guaranteed purse of $15,000, which is the highest stake yet sent to the winner and forty to the loser.

Atell, who is a former champion, will be the favorite. Neil is a former champion. Neil is a former champion.

HARRY POLLHAM WILL HAVE LONG REST

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Harry Pollham left the National League last night with a long rest, having been granted a leave of absence by the managers on account of ill health.

"Pollham is a sick man. He is going to take a long rest, and later come back to us as the president of the National League," said John A. Crowder, the Cincinnati manager.

Mr. Pollham may stay away as long as he pleases and be relieved of all his responsibilities. John A. Crowder, the Cincinnati manager, said that he would not be surprised if he were to see Pollham before the meeting of the league owners, he expressed the hope that he would be able to meet the team which had been overhauled here during the winter, and announced that he would be glad to have Pollham join the team.

It was when this statement was made public and President Pollham failed to appear at the meeting that a conference was held and the league's board asked that he be granted a leave of absence. It is probable that he will go to California next Monday.

President George B. Dwyer of the Boston Red Sox has the honor of being the first to have a long rest, having been granted a leave of absence by the managers on account of ill health.

"Dwyer is a sick man. He is going to take a long rest, and later come back to us as the president of the National League," said John A. Crowder, the Cincinnati manager.

Wives Posing as Martyrs Arc Morally Weak

By ELLA WHEELER WILCOX

THE woman who forever complains of her married life, yet who does not leave it, is not entitled to much sympathy or respect. To live with a man as his wife, yet to live with him as a stranger, is to live with a man as a martyr, and to pose as a martyr is to pose as a weakling.

It is difficult to understand the type of woman who poses as a martyr to the extent of humiliating the man who has chosen her. She is a woman who is not a martyr, but a weakling. She is a woman who is not a martyr, but a weakling. She is a woman who is not a martyr, but a weakling.

80 AND 82 SUMMER ST., BOSTON, FEBRUARY 19, 1909

Boston business men are going to work in the right way to make this city BIGGER AND BETTER than it has ever been before. The keynote of the extension of trade was struck in the American last Sunday in a series of interviews with representative merchants who are planning AN EXTENSION OF TRADE AND COMMERCE. The Merchants' Association and various other organizations are all working along the same lines.

One of the plans of the Merchants' Association, to have leading Boston men make a tour of the New England States for the PURPOSE OF STUDY AND COMPARISON, so that business and trade may be extended, developed and encouraged, is admirable.

No BOOM methods are to be applied. Sane business men know that BOOMS burst unexpectedly and end in hot air. What is needed is for our merchants to stand shoulder to shoulder to foster and develop trade and commerce.

Every merchant has it in his power to HELP—HELP AS MUCH AS YOU CAN, BUT HELP. It means more trade, more commerce and a further development of our beautiful city.

In developing trade new capital will be attracted to Boston. new enterprises will be started, money will find higher interest, and if we govern our city HONESTLY, as it should be governed, taxes will be reduced, and Boston will become bigger and better than ever before.

YOU CAN HELP. NO MATTER IN HOW SMALL A WAY, KEEP WORKING. KEEP PUSHING. KEEP GOING FORWARD.

A city that is standing still is in a bad way. Stagnation is death. Cities are like individuals—they go forward or backward. BOSTON SHOULD BE HELPED TO GO FORWARD.

You Always Startle, Amaze and Intimidate the Protectors of Dollars

Based upon this honorable and generous message from the President, we observe the usual typical American cash comment. The New York Sun asks: "What need is there of a Federal children's bureau to collect and disseminate information affecting the welfare of children? We don't believe that the Federal Government is called upon to be a mother or a guardian."

What the Sun says wouldn't be very important if it didn't reflect pretty well the opinion of all the other "money papers."

But we should like to ask the Sun, and the other newspapers like it, whether it wouldn't be better for the Federal Government "to be a mother or a guardian" to unfortunate children than to have that Government, as it is at present, a mother, father, guardian, uncle and financial providence to the gamblers in Wall Street.

The Sun and its owners are horrified at the idea that the United States Government, supposed to represent the men and women of the United States, should take an interest in the children and protect them, even at the cost of money and work.

And those same misrepresentatives of public opinion think it perfectly natural that the Government should come in with its millions and tens of millions to help Wall Street gamblers in any financial crisis.

If hard times put people out of work and expose children to starvation or physical deterioration, these editors that think with their pockets denounce the suggestion that the Government's resources should protect the children in the emergency.

But when hard times cut down the supply of millions in Wall Street and check the operations of the stock gamblers there and interfere with the plans of the big non-producing pirates that live on the nation, the San and others of its kind are first to demand national relief for these Wall Street parasites. And the Government, owned largely and controlled by these rich, piratical gentlemen, is always prompt in responding to the cry of the nation's children, WHEN THEY HAPPEN TO BE CHILDREN OF THE PIERPONT MORGAN BRAND IN WALL STREET. The Secretary of the Treasury rushes over; millions of the United States Government, money paid by poor people, are dumped into the Wall Street banks and into the gamblers' offices.

"The nation's financial health must be cared for"—that's the cry of those that resent the suggestion that the physical health of the nation's children should be a matter of national concern.

The New York Sun says: "The children, destitute or well off, in the States can be looked after by the States."

Well, Mr. New York Sun, how does it happen that your Wall Street gamblers, destitute or well off, can't be looked after by New York State? You are quick enough to shriek for the national Government to come with the national money and protect your crippled gambler. You are not content to rely on the State when the gamblers are hard hit. If the sorrows of a stock jobber demand the tearful, paternal interest of the Federal Government, why not the sorrows of an ordinary American mother with a sick child?

As a matter of fact, it's a disgrace to America that the Government that would spend its millions curing the diseases of hogs, fighting the diseases of cattle and alleviating the panicky needs of the big gamblers IGNORES THE NEEDS AND THE HEALTH OF THE NATION'S CHILDREN.

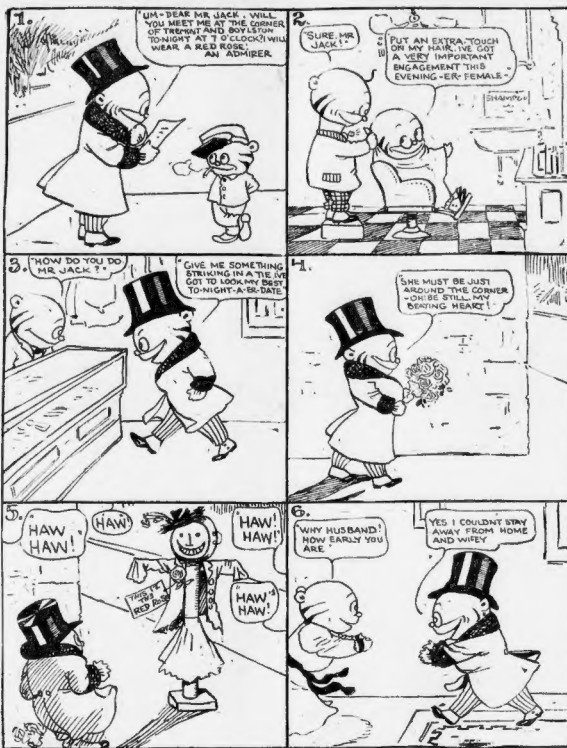

Mr. Roosevelt's recommendation is admirable, and the day is not far distant when the Sun and its brothers, whether they like it or not, will find the Government of this country spending its money to protect human beings, children and mothers, rather than to promote the schemes of gamblers, pirates and national parasites generally.

WHY NOT FLUSH THE STREETS?

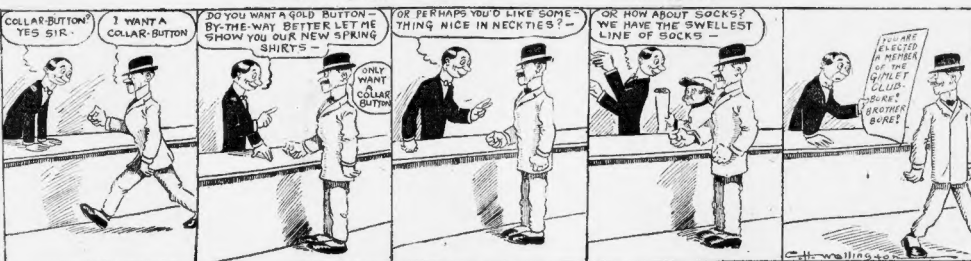

EDITOR BOSTON AMERICAN.

NO SURPRISE IN THE VERDICT
Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:
 Whenever heard of letting an accused man sit in judgment upon himself, I never heard of allowing the accused to investigate his own case and return a verdict. Yet this is just what has happened in the case of the charges against conduct of affairs in the health commission of this city. The accused, namely, myself, am under fire in the disclosure of the young lady stenographer. Yet they sit in judgment on the case. Naturally their verdict is accepted. What else could it be?
